TORO LOSES TO ASHEVILLE BOY

North Carolinian's Punch Surprises the Fans as it Did Tennessee Fighter.

The Ex-Service men of Middlesboro staged their first fight card at the East End baseball park yesterday afternoon and the initial bill proved exceedingly popular with the fans. The ring which was set up at home plate was entirely surrounded by a colorful crowd of fans. The grandstand and bleechers were completely filled. Many ladies were present and during the entire program enthusiasm was at a high pitch.

Jack Darcy and Kid Perkins were the first leather pushers on the bill. Darcy hailing from Rome, Ga., weighed in at 122 pounds, and Kid Perkins flying the colors of Knoxville tipped the scales at 119 pounds. From the opening gong until the end of the fight it was evident that the more experienced Darcy had his young opponent tagged. A terrific straight right to the heart and a cross fire of left hooks and jabs to the head had the school boy battler bleeding during each round. Darcy, who is considered one of the South's hardest punchers at his weight, took every advantage of the breaks and was always wading in to finish the argument.

The great surprise of the entire show came when Tot Wilson of Asheville scored a technical knockout over Tiger Toro, the Sensational Southern Welterweight at the end of the sixth round of their scheduled ten round bout. Toro entered the ring at 148 pounds and Wilson announced through his manager that he pulled an even 145 pounds. Wilso was the first to enter the ring and he seemed slightly nervous. Toro was in the ring possibly twenty minutes later. The delay was not explained and it looked as though the Tiger was trying to make Wilson's nervousness more pronounced by the delay.

The first round was even with but little damage inflicted by either fighter. Toro led a lightening fast left jab to the face and slipped Wilson's right hooks and lefts with perfect ease. The crowd was pleased with the showing of the Tiger. The second round found Wilson lashing out at every opportunity with a terrific right but with most of them slipped over the Tiger's head or were blocked in mid air.

At the beginning of the fifth round Wilson landed a terrific right flush on the jaw and Tiger took the count of eight. He promptly fell into a clinch but Wilson shook him off and shot in a half dozen sizzling left and right. Near the end of the fifth Wilson shot over a hard right hook and Toro again went to the canvas. The bell stopped the count.

Toro's seconds and manager worked over him desperately but it was evident at the beginning of the sixth round that he was groggy. Wilson tore out of his corner and fighting like a demon scored a knockdown in less than a minute. The Tiger took the count of eight and tried to clinch but Wilson shook him off and shot over a sizzling right which landed squarely on the button. The Tiger again took the count of eight. Getting up from the canvas he tried vainly to clinch but Wilson shook him off and drove in hard rights and lefts to the head. A right cross near the end of the round again scored a clean knockdown. The gong found the boys in a clinch.

Toro's manager promptly threw the towel in the ring.

SOCIALISTS TO SEEK NOMINEE FOR PRESIDENT

Meet Monday at Cleveland to Organize for Race.

EUGENE DEBS IS ILL

Party Chieftain May Not be Able to Attend Convention—May Support Third Party.

By Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, July 5.—The national convention of the Socialist party convenes here Sunday, July 6, immediately following that of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, whose adjournment was waited before the Socialist procedure could be determined.

Socialists behind the convention here declare that unless the conference indorses a third party movement and places a candidate in the field, they will take the step. If the nominees of the conference are acceptable to the Socialists, they declare the party will not have candidates, but will throw its support to the third party leaders.

Eugene V. Debbs, many times stand ard bearer, may not be in attendance at the convention because of illness. Local Socialists assert that the party opposes communism and bolshevism.

Addresses by leaders of the party will constitute the major portion of the program. Sunday's session will open with a business meeting, followed by a mass meeting, and close with a banquet in the evening. A second mass meeting will be held Monday, with all addresses to be made in Jewish.

Speakers for the opening day are: Congressman Victor Berber, Milwaukee; Morris Hillquit, New York; James Maurer, Harrisburg, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, and Abraham Cahan, editor of The Jewish Daily Forward, New York. Alexander Kahan of Cleveland is chairman for the opening day.

Speakers for the Jewish meeting are: Abraham Cahan, Benjamin Shelesinger, Chicago; former Congressman Meyer London, New York; Abraham Shiplakof, New York; N. Chanin, New York, and Morris Siskind, Chicago. Meyer Weinstein, Cleveland, will be chairman of this meeting.

JAPANESE IN KOREA WILL BE REINFORCED

Minoru Recommends Immediate Increase in Military Strength.

TOKIO—Increase of the Japanese garrison in Korea from two divisions to three is under consideration by the high authorities of the army, according to the vernacular press.

This reinforcement it is understood, is contemplated as a result of recommendations of Admiral Baron Minoru Saito, governor-general of Korea, who has represented conditions in the peninsula as demanding increase of Japanese military strength. Difficulties of patrolling the northern border of Korea against incursions by insurgent Koreans or Chinese bandits and the topographical handicaps under which the garrison works, are given as reasons for the requested increase.

DICK MORGAN PASSES IN ALASKA

Indian Who Had Historic Mission In the North, Dies.

Associated Press.
DOUGLAS, Alaska, July 5.—Dick Morgan, an Indian who died recently, was a historic character of Alaska, it was recaled by the Rev. A. P. Kaskevaroff, of Juneau.

Morgan, whom the United States naval authorities had employed as a policeman nearly 50 years ago, was sent with a message from Captain L. A. Beerdslee to settle differences that had arisen between the Kockwontahn and Gannadi tribes north of Sitka. Morgan informed the chiefs of the warring factions that they were to preserve order and to permit the white men to go through the Yukon passes.

Morgan returned February 12, 1880, with word to Captain Beerdslee that the Indian factions would remain peaceful and that the white men could enter the country without fear. As a result of this parley the Chilkat country was opened to miners.

Man Who Tore Down U. S. Flag Is Taken

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Charge Caffery at Tokio has advised the state repartment that he had been officially informed that the man who tore down the American flag in the American embassy compound had been arrested, and that a representative of the Tokio police department called upon him July 1, to apologize on behalf of the police.

The ban on publicity was removed on July 1, the charge said, and the vernacular press gave the affair much prominence, condemning it in the strongest terms. The Jiji Shimpo characterized the act as "A stain on our national honor." The promptness with which the minister of foreign affairs presented to Mr. Caffery the regrets of the Japanese government was favorably commendd upon.

Fourth of July Crowd Biggest Ever in Middlesboro

Middlesboro was a mecca yesterday for people living within a radius of fifty miles. What is reported by old residents to be the largest number of people ever in Middlesboro on a single day was here to attend the Fourth of July celebrations, it being estimated that 10,000 visitors were here. The day was crowded with spectacular events from the time the assembly was sounded at 9 o'clock until 6 o'clock in the evening.

The old time patriotic spirit such as is manifested only on Independence Day was prevalent; flags were flown, lively strains of music were incessant and the day was given over to joyous celebration. To enumerate the various phases of the celebration would be practically impossible, though the high points were those furnished by the ex-service men, the outside free acts by the gymnasts, the music by the LaFollette band, the fireworks and the thrilling stunts by the aeroplane.

About 800 ex-service men were present, these including former soldiers of all wars from the Civil War to the late World War. Artistic red, white and blue caps were worn by all these so that they could be distinguished from the thousands of other visitors.

At noon a mess line, 500 men strong, formed near the army kitchen. Rations were issued in mess kits as per army regulations and eaten with an utter lack of formality in keeping with the occasion.

One of the events particularly enjoyed during the morning was the army brig and the subsequent court martial and punishment. Even the mayor, chief of police and other noted citizens did not awe the officers and court. These were arrested, tried and fined. The amount of the fines, as reported by the "judge," ambunted to $19.71. He expressed the sentiment of the entire ex-service men's personnel in stating afterwards that he appreciated the splendid spirit in which the mayor and others took the joke and thus helped to make the occasion a success.

T. Russ Hill delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the citizens of Middlesboro to the thousands of visitors through the amplifier at the National bank. Hiss address which was enthusiastically received was as follows:

Neighbors and friends of Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky: "One hundred and forty eight years ago, a new nation sprang into being; the handiwork of your forefathers and mine. Yearly, since that time, we have paused to commemorate the day of that nation's birth with fitting ceremonies. As the years have brought power and strength to that nation, our fervor and pride on its birthday have increased, and justly so. May the thrill that stirs the heart of every American who contemplates the power, fame, justice and equal opportunity of his native land never be deadened by this age of materialism or by the intrigues and propaganada of the bolshevists of this age. With humbled hearts, may we honor America's glorious past, recognize her leadership in the world's affairs of the present and pledge ourselves to her even more glorious future. Such a dedication of spirit on the part of the citizenship of America today will effectually mark this anniversary of her birth.

"With this in view, the citizens of Middlesboro have invited you to be our guests for today. In our efforts to mark the day and entertain you, we have combed the earth for attractions. The dare devils in the air, the troupes of actors on this square, the band, the orchestra, the ball game, prize fight and fire works are all for your amusement and enjoyment. Take possession of them and and of our fair city. With true Kentucky mountain hospitality and with pure American ideals, we receive you. Laugh, play and be merry and may your cup of joy run over and when the shades of the evening are falling, may you be loathe to go and may the ties that bind us be stronger and may your country be more firmly enshrined in your hearts."

The races and other contests which came off, as far as possible, by schedule were enjoyed by the public. Some of the contests which appeared on the program were not conducted owing to the fact that not enough contestants had volunteered for the parts. Complete lists of the prize winners is not available today.

The steady whir of the aeroplanes overhead could be heard all day. A number of thrilling stunts were given by the intrepid aviator and other exhibition flights were staged. A number of passengers were carried thruout the day.

At 2 o'clock a large part of the crowd adjourned to the baseball game and prize fights which were held in the East End Athletic park.

Business men and the general public are highly elated over the splendid manner in which the celebration was put across. All give unstinted credit to the ex-service men of Middlesboro and of the surrounding country which contributed to such a large degree to the celebration, to the LaFollette band, the Ben Kembel Gold Derby orchestra and other various features which made the event one of the most enjoyable ever held here. All, too, are pleased at the orderly manner in which the celebration was carried on. Despite the large crowds and the festive spirit of the day there were no disturbances nor trouble among the celebrators.

Elze Raymer Dies as the Result of Two Pistol Shots Yesterday.

BOWLING GREEN, July 5.—Elze Raymer, 53, a farmer was slain by his brother Ollie, 50, yesterday, the result of an old grudge, at the latter's home near Segal, according to officers to whom Ollie surrendered. Elze Raymer had called at his brother's home apparently to re-establish friendly relations between them but when he dismounted from his horse and offered to shake hands he drew a knife and chased Ollie around the house three times, slashing his wrist and shirt.

Ollie rushed into the house and securing a pistol, fired twice, both shots taking effect. He was released on one thousand dollars bond.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Serious illness again entered the white house yester-day when Calvin Coolidge, Jr., younger son of President and Mrs. Coolidge, developed an acute case of septic poisoning.

The boy, who is 16, became ill late Thursday and that night his condition became alarming. Five physicians were called in for consultation and it was determined that poisoning resulting from a broken blister on the right foot brought about during a tennis match, had spread throughout his system. Another consultation late yesterday, followed by the announcement described as "serious," was unchangment that the condition, previously ed, but that the patient was doing "as well as could be expected at this stage."

MOTOR HORNS ENLIVEN BELGRADE

City Fathers Play Into the Hands of a Lucky American.

By Associated Press.
BELGRADE, July 5.—On all two-horse open carriages which here take the place of taxicabs, automobile horns have replaced the shrill yell of the driver as he tears through the streets, and all because of a young American.

He came here to take over an automobile agency and found an overstock of horns. Sometime later, curiously enough, the city authorities passed an ordinance compelling horse vehicles to be equipped with these singals. The American is happy and so is the populace, because the constant shrick of the horns gives the city an appearance, or rather sound, of bustling modernity.

APARTMENT RENTS SUFFER A SLUMP

Empire Exhibition Visitors Prefer to Live In Hotels to Furnished Rooms.

LONDON, July 5. Despite the great inflow of visitors for the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, furnished houses and flats in London are renting at a slightly lower figure than at the same time last year, according to estate agents.

Flat owners who expected to rent apartments to Wembley visitors at high figure found, to their disappointment, that the newcomers preferred to stay at hotels and prices dropped shortly after the influx of travelers began.

One estate agent said that the slump in furnished houses and flat property was greater than for some years.

By Associated Press.
New York, July 5.—After a day of balloting with no material change in the deadlock of the past week, the Democratic National convention adjourned until eleven o'clock Monday morning. Outside of the Ohio, Michigan stump to Smith, the situation remains the same.

By Associated Press.
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 5.—The democratic national convention resumed balloting today with the first ballot of the morning virtually unchanged from the one taken last midnight. William Gibbs McAdoo failed to develop any strength during the night hours and the Smith vote showed a loss of one vote, and Davis of West Virginia gained one.

Seventy-first ballot: McAdoo 528½, Smith 332½, Davis of West Virginia 68, Underwood 37½, Robinson 21, Glass 25, Ritchie 16½, Walsh 1, Owen 2, Saulbury 8, Bryan of Nebraska 2, Baker 56.

Seventy-second ballot: McAdoo 527½, Smith 334, Davis 65, Walsh 2, Baker 57½. Others were unchanged.

Seventy-fourth ballot: Governor Smith reached new high water mark when Ohio which has been voting for favorite sons heretofore, broke up her 48 votes and gave Smith 20½, while McAdoo received none or the Ohio vote. The vote: McAdoo 510, Smith 361, Davis 78½, Underwood 47, Glass 28, Robinson 23, Walsh 4½, Saulsbury 7, Bryan 5, Baker 5, Ralston 3½, Cox 1, Kevin 1, Owen unchanged.

NEW YORK, July 5.—With Ohio's forty-eight votes split for the first time during the Democratic national convention, and McAdoo slipping McAdoo votes to Smith, the New York governor reached a new high water mark on the seventy-fifth ballot today with 368. This vote is two above the total which occurred on the previous ballot when the Ohio and Michigan switch occurred. McAdoo dropped from 528 to 510, recovering to 513 on the seventy-fifth ballot. Other candidates were not materially changed on this ballot. Senator Ralston with 4, and Ex-Governor Cox with one, again appeared in the balloting but had no organized support. Seventy-seventh ballot: McAdoo unchanged, Smith 367, Davis 76½, Glass 23, Robinson 24, Ralston 6½, Franklin D. Roosevelt 1, others unchanged.

NEW YORK, July 5.—A resolution proposing that the democratic national convention adjourn to assemble at Kansas City on July 21 was snowed under on a roll call after delegates sponsoring the resolution demanded a record vote. When proposed the resolution was laughed down by the convention. Previously the convention had defeated a motion to drop the lowest candidate until the field narrowed down to five men. A group of Smith and favorite sons managers conferred to consider possibility of compromise that would leave McAdoo entirely out of the race. The conference appeared hopeful of reaching a settlement.

Few Arrests Here On the Fourth of July

Considering the large number of people in Middlesboro yesterday, there was little disorderliness. Only nine persons were arrested and brought to the city hall during the day, five of these being apprehended by the police in the city and the others by the sheriff's officers and constabulary force in the outlying sections. Most of these were charged with drunkenness or other disorderliness.

JULY FOURTH IN MIDDLESBORO

Not an accident and not an incident to mar the general tenor of good citizenship and good fellowship transgressed the serene atmosphere of the Middlesboro celebration. Outside of a few "plain ones" which is the usual outcome of a holiday of any kind in any land, the day was one that reflected credit both on visitors and townspeople.

The events were good—extra good. The LaFollette band was a joy; a piping good little city band that stuck to its job and added more than any other one feature to the enjoyment of the day. Its leader is to be congratulated and La Follette should congratulate itself on having such bandsmen among its citizens.

The baseball game and boxing exhibitions drew a big crowd and reports from the bleachers and ringside are that the patrons of the national game and manly art were highly pleased with the bill as a whole.

The police force handled the crowds—one of the largest if not the largest in the history of the city, in a manner highly acceptable. No officious display of authority was in evidence and the few orders given were received in good humored cooperation that aided the work of the officers and greatly lessened the chance for accidents.

The American Legion program went over the top without a hitch. From guard house to mess, barring uniforms, the full pomp, pride and circumstance of war were in evidence and the boys carried their program through with the same snap and zest that put them in the headlines of '17-18.

The cooperation of the Middlesboro Merchants Association aided in making the organization of stable character and gave it the official stamp that is needed in such celebrations. The officers of the association worked infatigueably to make the celebration a success and gave freely of their time and money towards that end.

Altogether it was a good time all the way through and shows what the town can do when they want to make a combined effort towards any project of a public character.

THE SOUTH AND EASTERN INFLUENCE

The failure of William Jennings Bryan once the beau sabeur of the Democratic party to swing the National Democratic convention with the magic of his oratory as in his pristine days goes to show the decline of the South and West as to deciding powers in the councils of Democracy.

The main contributing cause to the lack of interest in Mr. Bryan's message is probably that of an absence of organization in the southern delegations. From the start, the South has put forward no cohesive effort toward a nomination. The past week has thrown into sharp relief the fact that there is a northern bloc, roughly Irish-wet either bound to control, hopelessly block, or materially influence any nomination that the convention may make. The irony of the matter from a party standpoint is that the preponderence of power of the northern bloc is far above its political influence. The self imposed prerogatives of the leaders from New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and other northern states are out of all proportion to their importance in the November election. The three states named are, in a presidential election, nominally Republican. Yet the South and West allow the convention to go to New York on the false promise that by so doing they will land the Empire state and the others safely in the Democratic column and in so doing allow themselves to be engineered by the northern bosses. The fall of the influence of Bryan, Bruce Kramer, Taggett, who plays the lone hand, the McAdoo leaders of the south and others in their sections set over against the whips of Brennen, of Illinois and Roosevelt of New York and others who are in the Irish-wet staff of lieutenants, shows that the former leaders have been hopelessly outgeneraled and out maneuvered by a relatively small percentage of the party. Taking Illinois as a concrete example, we find Brennen as a dominating power in the convention absurdly out of all proportion to the influence of the state in party affairs. Illinois is a Republican state and while there is some local angles to elect the Illinois vote in November there is nothing in the situation to show that the state will not go overwhelmingly for Coolidge in the coming election. The nomination of Dawes effectually cinched that. But comes Mr. Brennen with the prestige of the Dever machine in Chicago and points to Illinois as grain ripe for the Democratic harvest and ordains unto himself powers in the convention accordingly.

For a time the solid South was held together largely for William Gibbs McAdoo but to a great extent the direction of the movement came from the so-called progressive West together with the influence of leaders like Bryan who, while living in the south, is a western man. If the McAdoo fight becomes hopeless and everything points that his sun is set for this convention, the solid South is scattered like sheep without a leader. And this is melted butter to the New York-Illinois-Pennsylvania et al bloc.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEW YORK, July 5.—Democracy has gone a wooing. It's out to capture the ladies. And if the female in politics is half as susceptible to blandishments and beguilements as she is supposed to be in matters of the heart, the feminine vote may cut a considerable figure in the final count fo. political offices this fall.

The share accorded to women, in the Democratic convention, was in striking contrast to the extent of participation that was permitted them in the Republican gathering at Cleveland.

Not only were they given greater representation, numerically, in the field of delegates and alternates, but in all the convention activities they were allowed a freer hand and wielded a wider influence than was yielded them at any stage of the Cleveland proceedings.

These special courtesies to the ladies are counted on not merely to help the Democratic presidential ticket out to be a big factor in the congressional and senatorial campaigns.

For control of the legislative end by an effective majority is no less important to the party's program than the election of their man as the executive head of the government. And aggressive assistance by women workers, it is conceded, can be particularly helpful in the local congressional fights where feminine, church club and social pressures can best be exerted.

In this move, Democrats hope to cash in on the campaign already in full swing by the National League of Women Voters, for greater political participation by women.

The league's campaign is political, but non-partisan. It takes no part in boosting the candidates of any party. It is committed to issues of particular interest to women, including child labor and the prevention of war, but the main drive of its present campaign is to stimulate woman's interest in politics to the point, where they will get out and vote.

In this connection, the league points out that, even in the election of 1920, less than half the eligible voters of the nation went to the polls on election day. The total vote cast, they claim, was but 49 per cent of the number that would have been cast had every elector exercised his or her right of suffrage. The result, although an overwhelming victory for the Republicans on the basis of the votes registered, was actually an election by a minority—by less than one-third of the nation's qualified voters, in fact.

The league has set itself the task of getting out at least 75 per cent of the total eligible vote this fall. If it exceeds even half-way in this effort, the number of ballots cast this fall will exceed the 26,780,000 votes cast in 1920 by more than 7,100,000. If it reached the goal of 75 per cent set, the total vote next Nov. 4 would exceed 51,000,000. The party that can pull any considerable part of the increased vote the league's campaign promises to bring to the polls is the party most likely to walk away with the election.

And this is the vote the Democrats are out to capture. They believe it is, to a very large extent, the feminine vote. Wherefore the special attentions given the ladies—even to the extent of proposing a woman candidate for vice-president!

Professor Irving Fisher of Yale, economist and statistician, who has made a special study of election figures and percentages, says the usual presidential elections is decided by a switch of less than five per cent of the votes cast.

If the women can bring to the Democrats that necessary five per cent, then the political gallantry of the Democratic leaders will have won its suit.

Chinese Burial Ground is Revealed by Diverted Canal

By Associated Press.

SUCHIEN, China, July 3.—Discovery of about a dozen coffins in the bed of the Grand Canal, whose course near here lately was diverted, has stirred the interest of scholars and has given rise to the belief that the famous waterway in the days of the Ming dynasty, when the coffins were buried, ran east of its present bed.

It was with the announced purpose of deepening the waterway and of recovering rich soil at the same time, that a dam was built last February across the stream just north of Suchien city. The water was turned into an old dry river bed leading toward Haichow and the canal was drained. In digging near here the coffins were brought to light.

Three contained the bodies of the Giang family, Giang himself and his two wives, who had been buried between 100 and 500 years ago. Inscriptions on a stone at the man's head gave Giang's name and a brief account of his family relating that he had died in the twelfth year of Djeng Dei of the Ming dynasty, about 1511 A. D.

It is accepted that it was only by unexpected chance that the final resting places of persons of Giang's rank could come to be under the waters of the Grand Canal, and therefore it is believed that a century or so after these interments the course of the stream was changed into the channel it has followed in recent generations.

YUKON RESIDENTS GET MAIL WEEKLY

Good Postal Service for the First Time Since Memorable Rush for Gold.

By Associated Press.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, July

Residents of the Yukon River are receiving a weekly mail service for the first time since 1898, during the great gold rush of the Yukon. The Alaska Railroad has made this possible.

A train leaves Seward, on the Gulf of Alaska of the Pacific Ocean, and winds its way to Nenana, 400 miles north in the interior. At Nenana the mail is transferred to government steamers which run on a weekly schedule down the Tanana River to Fort Gibbon on the Yukon River. From there the boats ply the Yukon to Holy Cross, 400 miles from the river's mouth.

From Holy Cross the Northern Commercial company operates a fleet of launches to Nome and St. Michael on the Bering Sea coast, and Innoko and Iditarod on the Innoko and Iditarod rivers in the interior.

Wireless licenses in England now number nearly 600,000.

OH! SNATCHED AWAY IN BEAUTY'S BLOOM
Oh! snatch'd away in beauty's bloom
On thee shall press no ponderous tomb;
But on thy turf shall roses rear
Their leaves, the earliest of the year;
And the wild cypress wave in tender gloom:
And oft by yon blue gushing stream
Shall Sorrow lean her drooping head,
And feed deep thought with many a dream,
And lingering pause and lightly tread:
Fond wretch! as if her step disturb'd the dead!
Away! we know that tears are vain,
That death nor heeds nor hears distress,
Will this unteach us to complain?
Or make one mourner weep the less?
And thou—who tell'st me to forget,
Thy looks are wan, thine eyes are wet.

WELFARE OF CHILDREN DUTY, SWEDISH LAW

Sweden Has New Law For the Care of Their Children

WILL BE REMOVED

Wayward and Depraved Children to be Placed In Home Bythe State.

Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, July 5.—Compulsory removal of wayward or depraved children from their homes into public custody, and subsequent supervision up to the age of 18, is provided for in a new law for the care of children which has just been passed in the Riksdag. The law further provides for public care of children who are found to be exposed to undesirable influences and in danger of becoming depraved.

Children removed from their homes by government inspectors and matrons in compliance with this law are placed in government institutions, or in good private homes in the country, where they receive expert training and can grow up in healthful surroundings. Social service or a similar sort has been carried on in the cities of Sweden, especially Stockholm, for many years by municipal and state boards, who place the children in desirable homes far out in the country, and pay an annual compensation to these homes. In many cases a strong bond of affection grows up between these waifs of the slums and their foster parents, which culminates in legal adoption.

Under the new law every city and parish will have a special board for the care of children, including local pastors and teachers as permanent members, while inspectors will travel all over the country for the purpose of observing and controlling individual development. Thousands of country homes receive the poor children of the city as guests during the summer and send them back to their homes with cheeks round and rosy.

Nation-wide and energetic philanthropic work is also carried on by the Swedish society "Save the Children," the campaign culminating in an annual Children's Day, when large sums are raised in order to provide summer vacations in children's colonies by the seaside, and in some cases on islands specially reserved.

North Sea Fish Are Depleted By Trawl

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July Fisheries experts recently have noted with anxiety that the great fishing grounds of the North Sea, which supply most of the sea food used on English tables, are becoming rapidly depleted through the energy of trawl fishermen who, since the end of the world war, have greatly increased in number.

The same condition, it is pointed out, existed in 1914, but the world war made fishing on a large scale virtually impossible, and as a consequence of the four closed years the runs increased greatly. In the last year or so fishermen have been forced to go further and further afield, and it is even suggested that the opening of the great fishing grounds off the Falkland Islands might be advisable. This would mean establishment of a special service of refrigerating steamers to bring the catch to British ports.

BUSINESS MEN BUILD HUGE HOUSE BOAT

Sleeping Quarters for 215 Tired Ones —Boat Is Modern Ark.

Associated Press.

BERLIN.—A monster houseboat with sleping accommodations for 215 tired business men is nearing completion on the Havel near Berlin. This modern Noah's Ark will be 150 feet long by 21 feet wide and will be propelled by gas motors.

The "Baldur," as this floating tourists' hotel has been called by its owners, the Green Home Society, is the largest ship with living accommodations afloat on inland waters of Germany. The interior simple but dignified in structure is a spotless white. Every cabin is provided with electric light, flowing water and two bunks. The eating facilities will be similar to those of a railway dining car.

The central idea of the "Baldur" experiment is that of taking the members of the Green Home Society, who are residents of the metropolis, out of Berlin on Saturday nights and bringing them to one of the beautiful spots in the Mark of Brandenburg. "The Baldur" is to be equipped with canoes and athletic paraphernalia.

By Associated Press.

MILLOM, England, July 3.—A war memorial tablet of the "Fell and Rock Climbing Club" of the lake district, has been unveiled on top of Great Gable Mountain, 2,949 feet high. The memorial consists of a park which takes in twelve peaks and most of the land surrounding them over the 1,500 feet line, and honors the 25 members of the club who lost their lives in the war. Hundreds of mountaineers journeyed to the Great Gable for the ceremony.

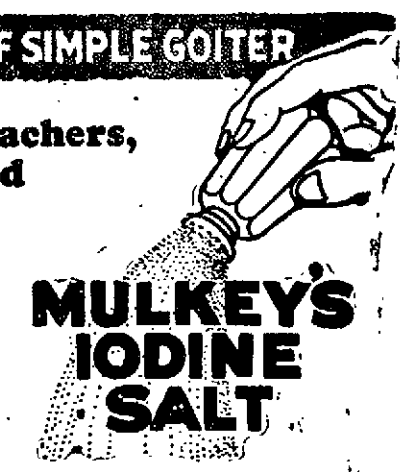
FOR THE PREVENTION OF SIMPLE GOITER

School Children and Teachers, Too, Are Afflicted

Health surveys made in different sections of the State show the prevalency of simple goiter to an alarming extent. At Fries it was found that 33 per cent of the school children and 50 per cent of the teachers examined were goitrous. The Department of Health, State of Virginia, issued a bulletin, calling attention to the cause of simple goiter and the possibility of its prevention. It states—

"While it may not be possible to supply relief to those persons who have suffered from this malady from childhood into adult life, by the use of very simple means the oncoming generation can be prevented from having to endure this handicap. Since simple goiter is usually due to lack of iodine or its compound, it is clear that in order to prevent it iodine must be supplied regularly and in proper quantities. The amount which a person needs to take for the prevention of goiter is so small that it can be readily mixed with table salt without its presence being noticed. In this manner it can be taken regularly with the food."



Mulkey's Iodine Salt is prepared especially for use in regions where goiter is prevalent, due to a deficiency of iodine in the plant life or water supply.

OBJECT TO BEING MADE CAPITAL CITY

People of Habarovsk Decry Action of Soviet.

CHANGE INTO EFFECT

Russian Government Action Not Greeted With Cheers Siberian City.

Asociated Press.

HARBIN—Citizens of Habarovsk, in eastern Siberia on the Amur, are unhappy over the removal of the Soviet seat of government from Chita in Transbaikalia to their city. The change decided upon some months ago is being carried into effect.

The first step toward removal was the publication of an order forbidding private citizens entering the city, exceptions being made only in special cases where citizens are able to show documents proving necessity. Violations are punishable by a fine of 300 rubles or three months at hard labor.

The explanation given by the authorities is that it is necessary to provide living quarters for officials of the various government departments. There is much bitterness among residents over the corresponding reduction in space allotted to them. The committee in charge of allottments has a right to deport such citizens as prove refractory.

WATCHMEN OBJECT; ROBBERS DISTURB

Bold Yeggs Bore Hole In the Back of One of the Night Guards.

By Associated Press.

DANZIG, July 3—Night watchmen have complained that because of the progressive methods of thieves they cannot sleep properly at night.

Recently robbers endeavoring to gain entrance to a food store managed to get into the basement and began boring through the wooden floor for the purpose of cutting a panel that would admit their bodies. It happened that the night watchman was asleep on the floor at that particular spot and when his body was pricked by the sharp instrument he set up a cry that aroused all the night watchmen and policemen in the neighborhood.

The building was quickly surrounded and the robbers were captured.

King of Irish Island In Limbo for Liquor

By Associated Press.

DUBLIN, July 3.—Innismurray, an historic island in the Atlantic off the coast of Sligo, and described as "the next parish to America" has been discovered to be an active home of the trade in illicit whiskey. The civic guards raided it and found eight barrels of poteen and large quantities of material with the necessary stills.

The island, like some others off the Irish coast, has a "king," in the person of Michael Waters. He was sentenced to three months' imprisonment with hard labor and a fine of $250. Two of his associates got the same jail sentences with fines of $125.

"Murder Tree"

British Emigrants Going to Australia

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 3.—It is reported that the cabinet has approved an extended scheme of migration from the British Isles to Australia.

For some time Senator Wilson, representing the Australian Commonwealth government, has been in consultation with the Overseas Settlement committee on details of the scheme, which includes provision for a loan to Australia of about $100,000,000 to assist the federal governments in the carrying out of development work as a preliminary to the acceptance of immigrants.

The new scheme is based on plans for entire families to go out and settle in Australia, and arrangements will be made in advance to insure that an immediate home and employment be available.

Monument Erected Commemorate Song

By Associated Press.

SALZBURG, Austria, July 3.—One hundred years have elapsed since the song "Silent Night, Holy Night," now sung as a Christmas carol throughout the world, was composed in the little village of Oberndorf, near here. In commemoration of the event a monument is to be erected in Oberndorf, the foundations of which are to be laid this summer. The unveiling is to take place on Christmas Day.

The words of the song were written by the chaplain of the Oberdorf parish, Rev. Dr. Mohr, and the music by the teacher of the local scholl, a man named Gruber.

Threatening letters signed "Ku Klux Klan" have driven Mrs. John Brooke and her family from their home in Pensgrove, N. J. One letter said that the Klan, at a meeting, objected to Miss Brooke's daughter Allen going auto riding at night with Richard Kent, 19, son of a prominent merchant. It was demanded that the young couple be kept apart or "action will be taken." Above is shown Alicia and below Mrs. Brooke, who sold her home and left to avoid further complications.

America, Language Pirate, Has Key to World Tongue

HAS KEY TO WORLD .. ..

By Alexander Herman

NEW YORK, July How's your vocabulary today?

Is it up to the minute so that you know what "Myobist" means? Or are you several months behind in the 'Scoflaw" period?

New words are coming into our language at the rate of about 2,500 a year—and even the man who writes the dictionary has trouble keeping up with them all.

He is Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, managing editor of Frank & Wagnalls New Standard Dictionary and author of many books on word usage.

"Americans," he says, "are the greatest linguistic pirates of all time. In the matter of acquisition of our speech we are governed by no law. We take what we need of other people's language—whether they like it or not.

"As a result, we hold the key to a universal tongue, that some day perhaps will dominate the earth."

Among recent additions to our language, which you should know, if you want to be up to the latest in linguistic style, Dr. Vizetelly points out, are:

Svaraj: From British India. Term that stands for its "Sinn Fein" movement which is trying to establish cultural and political development under native influence.

Jitney: From the French "jetton"—a piece of stamped metal used as a counter in card-laying or reckoning. An English expert agrees with this origin, but claims that its corruption in our term for a five-cent piece, is due to the cockney of the London East-Enders who applied it to their small change.

Hooch: From Alaska, where it was a modest word used in full, hoochinoo, by the Alaskan Indian to describe "a very strong distilled liquor made from yeast, flour, molasses and sugar, one glass of which is said to contain more 'kick' than a quart of any other ordinary intoxicating beverage made—whiskey included."

Fascisti: From the Italian, derived from the Latin "fascia"—something that binds together. Now the term is applied to that body of Italians who are united to oppose the revolutionary tendencies of the supporters of Sovietism in Italy.

Bolshevik: From the Russian "bolshe" which means "the greater." In the derivative terms such as "Bolshevism" the genius of our language has discarded the "k" and simplified the term.

Mah Jong: From the Chinese game that is becoming one of America's favorite indoor sports. There are 3000 pieces in the original game—and each has a name. When the full game is popularized here, there will be 3000 additional words to our tongue—some of which have already caught on—Pung! Chow! etc.

Among other words that have become part of our language recently, are those derived from terms of science. Radio itself has contributed some 5000 words. And the science of aeronautics about half as many. But here are two outside the larger field:

Parsec: A unit of length used in astronomy to express the distance of stars. One parsec is almost exactly 206,256 times the mean distance of earth from the sun. The term came into popular usage at the time Betelgusee was featured in the news columns.

Proton: Is a word that belongs to the science of the atom. It is much smaller than the atom itself and comes from the Greek protos—the lowest ranking member of a series having the smallest valence.

These are but a few of the terms that are becoming part of the language. Not all the words that come into usage remain.

DR. F. H. VIZETELLY

TRY THESE

If you want to find out whether you are up to the minute in word usage try to define these terms:

Autodyne	Intarvin
Binet Age	Kalastrum
Blah	Milline
Bonnaz	Monotrol
Cardioscope	Neutrodyne
Charmeuse	Oireachtas
Clostrophobia	Petentiometer
Coagulen	Skyography
Cobh	Soulism
Colorum	Synura
Eskimo Pie	Telautogram
Glaswegian	Vitamin
Heterodyne	Zincite

"Some of them are just fadist expressions," says Dr. Vizetelly.

"'Scofflaw,' for instance, widely publicitized several months ago as the term applied to those who violate the prohibition laws, is fast fading out from the picture. For it can't stand the crucible test of time, which makes a word permanent.

"Myobist is the latest word which is being tried out. It is a word coined from the M. Y. O. B., initial letters of "Mind your own business"—and is the antonym of a busy-body. But it, too, will have to stand the test of time before we can put it into the dictionary."

EDUCATION, ANSWER INSANITY PROBLEM

Madness Increases Over Three Hundred Per Cent Since 1870.

Asociated Press.

LONDON, July 5.—Despite the fact that in Great Britain there is today one insane person in every 200, contrasted with one in every 650 in 1870, there is no justification for the theory, so often expressed, that a process of racial degeneration is under way, in the opinion of E. J. Lidbetter, of the Eugenics Education Society, expressed at the recent conference of the National Union of the Professional and Industrial Blind of Great Britain.

Despite the increase in the number of insane, Mr. Lidbetter said, nature herself was constantly striving to regain the normal average, even in the highly organized and complex communities of the present day. Those of weak mentality, he said, attracted each other and eventually brought about their own extinction in this way.

Discusing sterilization, which he said had ben acclaimed as a success in some portions of the United States, the speaker asserted that it did not serve its purpose altogether, because many insane parents had first been parents, their insanity appearing later. Although he suggested that both sterilization and segregation would prevent the birth of many undesirables, he advocated education, both of the individual and the public in general, as the final solution of the problem.

DISTANCE HAMPERS ALASKAN BASEBALL

Alaskan Leagues Are Composed of Various City Organizations.

Associated Press.

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, July 5.—Alaskans play, read of, and enjoy their baseball like their cousins in the states.

Ketchikan, Juneau and Anchorage have baseball leagues which are composed of city teams. Because of the great distance separating these cities it has been impossible to play match games.

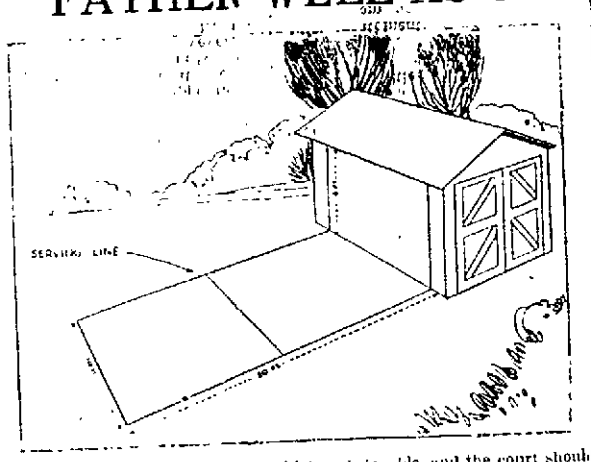
Ketchikan, which lies 75 miles from the international boundary line, plays games every year in Canada on Dominion Day, and the Fourth of July. Games this year have been scheduled with Anyox, a British Columbia smelter community.

Hart Film Does Not Arrive; Order Mixed

The Brown Amusement offers the fololwing explanation of the failure of the Bill Hart film to reach here yesterday in time for the holiday program. The Paramount exchange opened an office at Louisville, effective June 29. When the transfer was made from Cincinnati, orders were to arrive here. The film arrived here mixed and the feature picture failed today, however, and will be exhibited at theManring tonight.

BACKYARD PLAYGROUNDS

HANDBALL GAME FOR FATHER WELL AS SON



(This is the eighth of a series of 10 articles on the construction and use of playground equipment adapted to the back yard.)

By W. C. Batchelor.

Handball is a game in which father and son can grow up together. Dad can break in his boy at about the age of 10 or 12. Almost any back yard will provide ample space for a court.

Any flat wall, either wood or brick, with a free space of level ground adjoining, will do. The court may be any size, but in general the following proportions should be followed. The wall space should be four-fifths as high as it is wide, and the court should be two and one half times as long as the wall is high.

A "service" line divides the court midway between the wall and the back line. This is called a single-walled court.

The game is played on the same principle as tennis but with the hand instead of a racquet, and against the wall instead of over a net. A tennis ball or any similar rubber ball may be used.

The rules are simple and the game is easily picked up by the beginner. Its devotees claim it has all the fascination of any other sport.

Convention Page Doesn't Care Whoop Who Gets Nominated

NEW YORK, July 5. John J. Hughes, Jr., 11, of Des Moines, Ia., doesn't care a whoop about the windup of the Democratic convention.

It could all be over now, as far as he is concerned. For he has received his appointment as official page, and has an engraved card to prove it.

"And I have had my picture taken, just like a regular candidate," he says triumphantly, "and all the kids back home will see it."

"Back home," young John is a seventh-grade schoolboy, and a first-grade carrier of the Des Moines News after school hours.

His father is sergeant at arms of the convention. But it should not be implied that he used his office to win the appointment for his son.

The boy and his smile carried the issue. And here's his picture to prove it.

DODGE POLICY EFFECTS SAVING

Continue Buying Without Fear of Depreciation Through Obsolescence.

It is quite evident from the comments of buyers, according to P. T. Colgan of the Pinnacle Motor Company, Dodge Brothers dealers, that the publicappreciates the significance of Dodge Brothers' policy of making constant improvements in their motorcars instead of changing models every year.

Magazines and newspapers everywhere are reminding the people this month that this policy continues to prevail and that they may buy Dodge Brothers cars without fear of seeing a new and entirely different model put on the market soon after theytake possession of the present type car.

"Coming just at this time," said Mr. Colgan "when many manufacturers are preparing to issue new models, in keeping with their annual custom, this advertisement is having a striking effect. It serves as a wholesome reassurance to prospective buyers. They dislike the idea of buying a car today and finding a month or so later that it is an obsolete model. And it is only natural that they should The depreciation loss is out of proportion for a few months' use. Morover, most people like t be up to date in their motor equipment and if they wish to follow their desire in this respect they must accept this sharp depreciation loss.

"Dodge Brothers Motor Car owners who buy new cars every year—and there are many of them—have a big advantage here. A one-year old Dodge Brothers car is modern in appearance and mechanical design. That fact is conceded by everyone. Equally important to its resale value, however, is the fact that it is substantially the same car that Dodge Brothers will manufacture a year later. In other words there is no danger that this one year old car will suffer an undue depreciation loss simply because an entirely different model is about to make its appearance. We charge off only for the normal rate of depreciation for one year. And the used car buyer in turn appreciates the fact that the price represents full value and that he can buy the car with full assurance of many years of satisfactory service.

Arkansas Lady Says Mother Gave Her Cardui and She Had No More Trouble of This Kind.

Lamar, Ark.—Mrs. Edith Seeman, here, recently made the following statement describing her experience in the use of Cardui:

"I had pain in my back and sides; had sick headaches and my nose would bleed. I couldn't sit up at all.

"My mother gave me Cardui. I took about a half bottle and at this . . . I was able to get up and help with the work. Next time I took it again, and now, after taking two bottles, I do not have any trouble at all at this time. I gained, my skin cleared up, I am healthy and strong.

"My mother took Cardui for a weak, run-down condition. It did her more good for weakness and nervousness than any medicine she has ever taken. She took six bottles in all. We recommend it and certainly know its worth."

The foregoing is one out of thousands of statements which have been received from users of Cardui, the woman's tonic. If you are a sufferer from womanly ailments, try Cardui. It may be just what you need. At your dealer's. NC-158

Hints From a House-Wife's Kitchen Diary

Early Summer Hints

A NEW RHUBARB RECIPE

Rhubarb is the first spring treat by the enameled ware preserving kettle. For housewives who find the plain rhubarb too cold for the palates of their household, there have been devised various rhubarb compotes. These are very good in themselves, as jam, and make excellent filling for fruit pies and tarts.

One of these is made of rhubarb and prunes. Cut the rhubarb into inch pieces and place in an enameled ware preserving kettle. Soak the prunes all night, or until soft. Remove the stones from the prunes; add the prunes to the rhubarb. The proportion should be equal. The proportion should be one cup of stoned prunes to two cups of rhubarb. Add just enough cold water to keep the fruit from burning and cook slowly over a moderate fire. When well cooked, add sugar in the proportion of one cup of sugar to three cups of the mixture. Cook until all is a smooth jam. As a variation of this, sliced bananas may be added.

EQUIPMENT FOR PRESERVING

When the garden begins to grow green, and fruit trees, berry bushes and the like show promise of good things to come, then the housewife begins to prepare for harvesting these gifts of nature. While her harvesting does not call for reapers and binders, mowing machines and other ponderous, if useful, inventions, it is not without its mechanical side. The utensils in which the fruits and vegetables are cooked, the implements used in handling them and the containers in which they are finally stored away are all of great importance. The experienced housewife knows very well that she must have utensils which have a surface not affected by the acids in the fruit, and therefore she knows how invaluable is her enameled ware preserving kettle, with its sanitary, clean, acid-proof surface. If she is forehanded, she will have three sizes of preserving kettles in commission. A medium-sized enameled ware saucepan, which should be kept entirely for use in the preserving process, is most useful for boiling down syrups or making small quantities of jams from leftovers. Add to these an enameled ware colander, enameled ware skimmer, ladle, and several long handled enameled ware spoons and the mechanical end of preserving is provided for. To keep fruit after cooking, nothing is as good as glass jars with tight screw down tops.

DISHES FOR THE SUMMER HOME

Owners of country cottages or bungalows are now getting them in order for the season. It is always rather depressing to enter one of these shut up dwellings and mark the damage or deterioration of the winter. In our climate moth and rust do corrupt, all right, even if thieves do not break through and steal.

When it comes to going over the kitchen equipment, lucky is the housewife who left enameled ware to face the winters' damp. No rusted out kettles or saucepans for her! If she is getting ready for tenants, she will secure their gratitude by seeing that they are well provided with this easily cleaned ware. Also it will be an economy to include plates, cups and saucers of enameled ware for everyday or picnic use, as ordinary china fares ill when people are vacationing.

A STRING BEAN SWEET PICKLE

In the making of sweet pickles, the enameled ware preserving kettle is indispensable. Its porcelain surface makes it safe to use with even the strongest vinegar, and no matter how long the pickles may be in the cooking their natural color will not be altered.

Try this year a little known sweet pickle made of very tiny string beans. Pick the beans when not over an inch or an inch and a half in length. Trim off each end. Place in an enameled ware preserving kettle and cover with sugar in the proportion of one cup of sugar to one of the beans. Then pour on any good vinegar until the beans are covered. Bring quickly to a boil and skim with an enameled ware skimmer. Then cook slowly, adding whole cloves, a few allspice and a small quantity of stick cinnamon. These spices may be left in the jam with the pickles, or may be skimmed out. The pickle is equally good either way. It is only a question of taste.

Establishes a New Scout Record

By Associated Press.

PASADENA, Cal., July 5.—A new Boy Scouts' world's record for wall-scaling in 10.7 seconds was established here recently when Troop No. 1 of South Pasadena shattered the previous record of 12.6 seconds held by a North Carolina troop.

The event consists of a sixty-foot run with an intervening wall nine feet high that must be scaled by the eight boys comprising the team.

The Clean, Cool Kitchen

—WHERE WORK IS LIGHT

A WOMAN realizes how much arduous, tiring work she had been doing in her kitchen, needlessly, when she begins to use an electric range.

She Gas banished forever the bother with dirty fuel and ashes; there is no soot, smoke, grease nor fumes; no wasted heat. She can keep her kitchen spotlessly clean and pleasant, and has put an end to the constant scrubbing of pots and pans.

With a Hotpoint Electric Range the woman in the home finds little left of kitchen work—and what remains is almost like a diversion.
